Press Release: April 14th 2010

Wheel Wisher Non Profit Organization is FINALIST at LG Live Borderless competition.

Wheel Wisher Non-Profit Organization has been selected as a finalist of the LG Live Borderless competition. Although Wheel Wisher did not win the ultimate prize of a business class plane ticket around the world for 80 days plus 100,000 USD, Wheel Wishers has gained a valuable media attention to its cause.

Wheel Wisher's entry came in 3rd amongst over 20,000 entries from all over the world. Wheel Wisher's entry proposed to fulfill its mission of alleviating human, animal and environmental sufferings in the world by conducting field visit of Community Based Organization and creating video documentaries. This video documentaries would be shown freely on its website www.WheelWishers.org where the general public can learn and financially support these important works done around the world.

Co-founder Steven Lee summarized the experience as "a valuable experience to showcase (our) mission to the world, which is to bring countless untold stories of improving people's lives, saving the animals and the environment to the general public".

The competition was organized by LG electronics, which is part of LG Corp, South Korea's third largest conglomerate that produces electronics, chemicals, and telecommunications products with global revenue of over 100 billion USD.

Wheel Wishers Non-Profit Organization is US based non-profit organization, established to alleviate human, animal and environmental sufferings in the world because they believe human, animal and environment equally deserve people's attention in creating a better world for next generations to come.

They aim to alleviate these sufferings by using electronic, print and video media as a tool to raise awareness, create direct public understanding and initiate private contributions to effective, transparent and honest community based initiatives around the world addressing these sufferings.
